Police data... what about them?

2014: A new Spanish police form

- Road characteristics.
- Speed limit.
- Positions, trajectories and actions of vehicles.
- Most damaged part of vehicles.
- Airbags.
- Alcohol/drug tests.
- Protective clothes.

- Sequence of events.

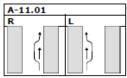

Crash type vs Crash scenario

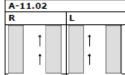

Traditional:

- Head-on.
- Sideswipe.
- Side.
- Rear-end.
- Run-off.
- Pedestrian.
- Animal.

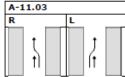

CADAS:

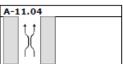

At least two vehicles - same direction - overtaking

At least two vehicles - same direction - rear end collisions

At least two vehicles - same direction - entering traffic

At least two vehicles - same direction - side collision

At least two vehicles - same direction - others

At least two vehicles - same direction no turning - not

Defining scenarios from the Spanish form

- Road type.
- Junction: yes/no, type.
- Nº of lanes on each direction.
- Road alignment.

Location and trajectory for each vehicle:

- Road with/without priority (junction crash).
- Approaching/moving away (junction crash).
- Direction (increasing/decreasing km).
- Location (ref. vehicle 1): same/different carriageway, same/different lane.
- Location (right/left/central lane, shoulder, bus lane...).
- Action (going ahead, changing lanes...).

For each driver:

Traffic violation (failure to yield, following too close...).

Bicycle/motor vehicle crashes

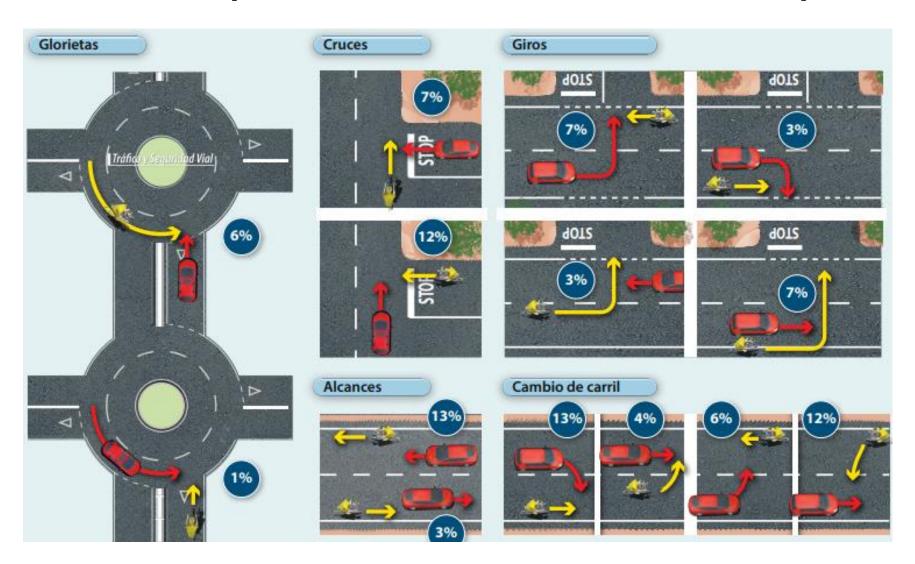

Los 400 ciclistas que dejaron de pedalear

Tres ciclistas fallecidos y un herido esta mañana en Navarra

Results (N=434 fatal/serious crashes)

Police data... what about them?

Old data, new ways to look at them
