22nd of May, Leipzig, Room BK2, level 0

Background

▶ Project funding

- › International Climate Initiative (“IKI”) of the German Ministry for the Environment, Nature Conservation and Nuclear Safety

Project overview

► Project objective

- Help countries identify effective measures and pathways to reduce transport CO₂ emissions

Quantitative assessment framework

► Build a strategic quantitative transport modeling tool to

- › Assess CO₂ emissions from transport for a base year
- › Build policy scenarios and related CO₂ impacts to 2050
- › Identify effective CO₂ mitigation measures

► Features of the tool

- › Easy to use and update
- › Provides visualisations of main model outputs – e.g. to be directly shared with stakeholders / the wider public
- › Builds on the methods behind ITF's in-house global transport models; tailored to the specific country and its needs

Capacity enhancement

Objectives:

- ▶ National stakeholders can develop transport CO₂ reduction pathways
- ▶ National stakeholders define transport CO₂ mitigation measures and targets that are reflected in national policy documents

Planned activities

- > Policy workshops with relevant stakeholders
- > Training events
- > User manuals for quantitative assessment tool

Policy dialogue

Objectives

- ▶ Enhance transport and climate change dialogue → agreement on the transport sector's role in national CO₂ reduction commitments
- ▶ Disseminate findings beyond the target countries / within the region

- ▶ Planned activities:
 - › Organise respective policy dialogue/outreach events
 - › Prepare project website, reports, outreach material
 - › Facilitate exchange among ITF member countries at events etc.

Indicative timeline

- ▶ 2019: Kick off project in each country of implementation
- ▶ By 2021: Assessment tool + policy pathways for each country
- ▶ 2022: Focus on outreach and Training activities

More specific timelines will depend on the country.

We hope to be able to have a 'head start' with the countries that are present today!

Closing remarks

- ▶ Contact point for each implementing country required
- ▶ The focus for each country is TBD together with the countries
